

HUI NO'EAU VISUAL ARTS CENTER

Annual Report

2022-23

Mahalo

Aloha Hui No'eau 'Ohana,

From the bottom of my heart, I would like to thank each and every one of you for another inspiring year of community visual arts education at our beloved Hui No'eau Visual Arts Center.

The Hui's talented and passionate teaching artists, exhibiting artists, students, educators, partner organizations, and schools; generous donors, members, board of directors, grantors, and volunteers made it possible for us to serve more than 20,000 individuals in 2022-23, including more than 8,000 Maui County keiki.

The past several years have taught us about resilience. We have seen the positive impact of the arts on mental health and overall well-being. The arts have the ability to transform, to bring people together, and to create beauty in uncertainty.

While our hearts are heavy for all those impacted by the wildfires, we remain committed to our mission and to our community's journey towards healing. The arts will be more critical than ever before.

The Hui strives to be an inclusive and inspiring place for all to create, share, and prevail together.

None of this would be possible without each and every one of YOU. Thank you for being a part of our growing and thriving arts community on Maui and at the Hui! Mahalo nui.

With aloha,

Anne-Marie Forsythe
Executive Director

Our Mission

Hui No'eau Visual Arts Center's mission is to unlock creativity through exceptional visual arts education and to enhance this endeavor through preservation of the historic Kaluanui Estate.

Hui No'eau is a nonprofit, community-based visual arts education organization located on the grounds of the historic Kaluanui Estate in Makawao, Maui, Hawai'i.

Founded in 1934 and designated a 501(c)3 nonprofit in 1967, Hui No'eau is the primary community visual arts center in Maui County that serves all ages through hands-on visual arts education programs in painting, drawing, printmaking, ceramics, jewelry, metalsmithing, and Hawaiian cultural art forms. The Hui presents unique fine-art exhibitions, delivers outreach programs for underserved youth, offers free community arts events, and much more. Each year, the Hui's visual arts education resources support the creative growth and well-being of more than 20,000 people, including more than 6,000 children across Maui County.

Your impact

"The atmosphere all around at the Hui is just amazing. This was my child's first ever camp program. As a parent, my anxiety on drop off was quickly put to ease upon pick up when my child greeted me with the smile and eagerness to return day after day. My child has grown in knowledge, experience, and socialization." - Parent of a child at Hui Summer Camp Kaluanui

"Our school doesn't have a dedicated art class. My child enjoys the Na Keiki No'eau program and the projects so much. Lucas enjoys the creative experience of the art classes and he often talks about how fun it is for him. He likes learning new art ideas and builds his self-confidence as an artist. Lucas thinks this is a great program and hopes it will continue!" - Parent of Na Keiki No'eau Student at Makawao Elementary School

"The art kits bring joy, wonder, and excitement to children in group. We have conversations around the art projects. Art does that. There are no rules. They get really creative. They see their projects and they are so happy and so proud. The Hui provides support, encouragement, and light for our families." - Ka Hale A Ke Ola Children's Services Coordinator Misty Bannister

"If there is a thriving arts community, a healthy, thriving larger community grows around it. The Open Studios program allows artists to take more independent time to dive deeply into their work. The extra time and space outside of a class setting is crucial to emerging artists on Maui. Most artists do not have the physical or creative space at home to bring out their potential - having professional tools and specialized equipment available, along with professional guidance is key to keeping an arts scene alive on our beautiful, unique island." - Hui Open Studio User

"Kekai was very attentive to each of her students. The pride she takes in her craft really shows in the way she speaks about her Kupuna and the way she cares for her tools. She knows the uniqueness of each of the plants and how they will show up and speak to you depending on age, environment & species. I really appreciated her aloha and humility. She definitely embodies this 'Ōlelo no'eau: Hana a mikioi, lawe a auli'i, Do things until they are excellent, work on things until they are exquisite." - Student in Kekai Daunhauer's Art with Aloha Workshop

"She loves everything to do with art and of any medium. Hali'a has benefited a lot from camp and is always eager to be there. She loves her teachers and fellow students as well. She is very proud of the work she does and is always happy to share them. Thank you. The Hui has been a place where she can let her imagination run and be free within herself." - Grandmother of Kahali'a

Art with Heart: Maui Fire Relief

Our hearts are heavy with the wildfires that devastated areas of Kula and historic Lahaina town. The Hui truly believes in the immeasurable power of the arts. Art can help us feel less alone by providing an opportunity for shared experience and expression. Art teaches us to notice details, to find beauty where we may not have seen it before, and to connect with our community and ourselves. The arts are more critical now than ever before to support the community's mental health and healing.

Hui No'ēau's Art with Heart: Maui Fire Relief Program is focused on strengthening community and supporting recovery and resilience through delivery of enriching, hands-on arts experiences for Maui residents of all ages, with a direct focus on serving children and families in Lahaina.

Art with Heart launched immediately on August 10 to support those in need. Art2Go Art Kits and in person arts activities were provided for children and families at War Memorial, Ka Hale A Ke Ola Homeless Resource Centers (KHAKO), and other central Maui evacuation shelters. Art kits include all of the art supplies, instructions, and inspiration necessary for children to complete a hands-on art project remotely with their families and friends. Hui teaching artists have been providing arts activities at several community events; and free community art events at the Hui have provided more than 600 children and families with uplifting arts experiences amidst this tragedy. Scholarships continue to provide impacted artists and students with opportunities to create.

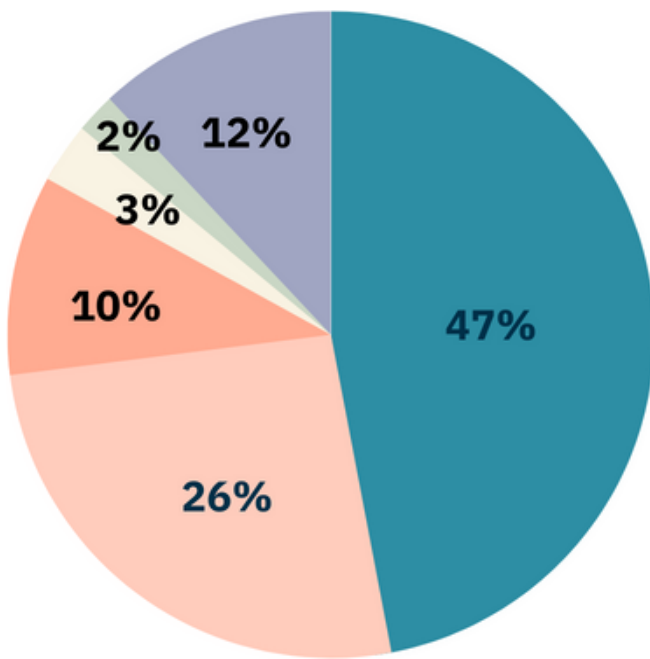

Hui No'ēau has partnered with Hawai'i Technology Academy (HTA), a tuition-free, WASC-accredited, public charter school that immediately established a satellite school in Lahaina after the fires. Hui No'ēau teaching artists have been providing arts lessons for Lahaina students in grades K-8 twice weekly since Sept. 12.

The Hui is committed to uplifting and supporting our entire community the best way we know how -- the arts. We stand Maui Strong for families, Maui keiki, teaching artists, exhibiting artists, educators, artists & crafters, cultural practitioners, and small business owners through this time of healing and recovery. Mahalo to all those who have supported these efforts.
